The present invention relates generally to particle beam irradiation equipment, and particularly to a charged particle beam irradiation nozzle for irradiating a charged particle beam extracted from the target. According to one aspect of the invention, the system may be used to treat cancer by extracting a beam from the charged particle beam generation equipment and after the beam passes through the first and second scatterers, the beam irradiates the cancer within the patient's body. Thus, the present invention contributes to the treatment of cancer, within the meaning of MPEP § 708.02, X. Accordingly, applicant requests that this Petition to Make Special be granted and the application undergo accelerated examination.
